Wihlborgs signs lease with EY at Prisma, Helsingborg

The accounting and consulting firm EY has signed a lease with Wihlborgs for 700 m² at Prisma (Ursula 1), which is being constructed in Oceanhamnen in Helsingborg.

Oceanhamnen is a completely new city district that is currently being constructed with a mix of offices and housing. This is where Wihlborgs is building the Prisma office building, the area's icon, with the exciting tech hub HETCH at the building's heart. In the fourth quarter of 2020, EY are moving some 50 employees into the fourth floor at Prisma.

"We are pleased to welcome EY as a new tenant of Wihlborgs. Prisma has all the prerequisites to create fantastic environments for staff and visitors. The combination of its close proximity to communications, its nearness to the sea and its world-class architecture makes it difficult to beat," says Ulrika Hallengren, CEO of Wihlborgs Fastigheter.

"We are really looking forward to the move to Prisma. Our employees are our most important resource and we are pleased to be able to create a new, extremely attractive and modern work environment in this fabulous building," says Karoline Tedevall, Office Manager at EY.

Prisma was designed by Erik Giudice Architects, who were inspired by the light, the views toward Denmark and the constantly moving ferries. The result is a building with graceful, maritime lines, an airy atmosphere and a playful facade. With the tech hub Hetch at its heart, this will be a unique building encompassing an exciting mix of tech start-ups and established companies. Prisma has a strong sustainability focus and has been certified to SGBC Gold standard. Read more about the project at www.wihlborgs.se/en/projects/helsingborg/prisma-helsingborg/
